HIS LAST WORD TOO.

Manager Wrack Colombo of Italian A. C. Writes of Baseball.

Editor Barre Daily Times: Not wanting to take up any more space than necessary, I wish you would kindly publish the following in answer to Mr. T. Gabelloni's little history published in your paper June 21st, and my last through any papers.
Mr. Gabelloni seems to refer mostly to outside talk or gossip, leaving out the real facts. To begin with his reference of my refusing to play the Barre A. C. on account of a couple of players is not true as nothing of the kind has even been said by me or any of the club committee. As to arranging games so that the teams would not conflict with each other by playing on the same day, would say that Mr. L. Wright when at the club rooms, was given dates of our schedule. I never refused to play the Barre A. C., but Mr. Scott with several others in talking the matter over on several occasions seemed to have the opinion that we were obliged to play the Barre A. C. if we wanted the field to play on, while no one ever got down to business about arranging any games.
Regarding Mr. Gabelloni's inquiry of where the other 25 per cent. would go if winning team takes 75 per cent. would say that I'm ready to also accept that if he has no use for it. The proposition of 75 per cent and 25 per cent is just as fair for one as it is for the other and if he thinks he has the best team let him come out with it. I am ready to show him who has the best team and if he wants to arrange a series of five games on the above proposition I will leave matter open till next Saturday, and no longer, having games pending with some of the best teams in the state.

The program at the Pavilion has all the earmarks of an exceptionally good one, the performers in both acts being old-timers, who have won an excellent reputation throughout the country by their very clever work in their respective lines. One is a comedy musical act that presents a number of novel comedy situation and musical numbers. The other is a comedy trick bicycle act which gives the program a wide range of variety. The pictures are both feature reels, one a powerful war drama, in which Miss Turner, the well known Vitagraph leading woman, is seen at her best.

55TH ANNIVERSARY

Of Mr. and Mrs. J. A. Loughheed of French Street Observed.

Mr. and Mrs. J. A. Loughheed of 14 French street received hearty congratulations on June 23, it being their 55th wedding anniversary, and one hundred and four postal cards and letters were received from relatives and friends in the Dominion of Canada and Connecticut and Vermont. The following lines were also sent:

To Father and Mother on their fifty-fifth anniversary.
A Greeting.
Gladly would we be with you
To celebrate this day.
But fate has not decreed it thus,
So we must stay away.

Yet we can send a greeting,
A "God bless you" on your way,
And may his sun ne'er cease to shine
To light your earthly stay.

Fifty-five years ago this day,
How little then you knew
Of many joys and sorrows
That new bond would bring to you.

In fancy you live o'er the years,
That have so swiftly fled,
And smiling greet the living,
While you mourn the loved ones dead.

And yet, we think, I hear you say,
"God's will" was ever best.
So in submission we bowed our heads,
Trusting in him the rest.

Then once again we greet you,
On this your "wedding day,"
And may God's choicest blessings,
Around you ever stay.

Fleming Frances.
